Unbeatable.

Modular

Our booths are living organisms just like your company – they grow, shrink, and move around.
Space pods have hidden wheels – all modules can be moved quickly. It also comes with a unique, fast and simple way of attaching and detaching modules. You can order accessories straight from our warehouse or add functional furniture items into your booth.

Easy to use

Once installed you can easily plug your new pod into a power outlet from the floor or ceiling.
Our acoustic booths come with electrical sockets for charging different devices, including USB.
All connections are integrated into the construction elements during production. The sockets are located on the floor or wall panel for easy access during all seating arrangements.
